So you run your film company from an office on the balcony of your apartment, and your wife gets furious every time the phone rings, and when it rains. . . .

It doesn't matter how small your company is, one of the most important commodities in the film business is public relations. We have the ideal answer to the problem of making your name known across the country, and it is inexpensive.

You can purchase advertising space in CINEMA CANADA at lower rates than in any other industry magazine in the country. Consider that a one-quarter page ad will cost only $37.50, providing you take it for six consecutive issues (one year). For that amount of money, your ad will appear in every major office having to do with film right across Canada. These rates are due to be raised, but we are holding them down as long as possible.

We will be pleased to send you a rate card, and discuss an advertising programme. Call or write CINEMA CANADA
