creatures makes them feel uncomfortable. She explains that the setting is crucial for the movie's success. "The atmosphere is key," she says. "We're trying to create a mood of mystery and suspense." She asks the actors to focus on their characters' emotions and to be present in the moment. "This is our chance to be real," she tells them. "Let's make it count."